

GOOD telephone service depends largely upon mutual courtesy. The telephone is more useful to those who talk as if face to face, for civility removes difficulties and facilitates the promptest possible connections.

As in other intercourse, it often happens that two or more people wish to talk with the same person at the same time. Without courtesy confusion is inevitable, and the confusion is greater when the people cannot see each other.

The operators must be patient and polite under all circumstances, but they will do better work if they meet patience and politeness on the part of telephone users.

The Bell Telephone Service enters intimately into the social and business life of each individual. The best results come through the practice of mutual courtesy.

fifth straight in four days, Washington climbed to within a single game of Cleveland in the fight for second place in the American league pennant race. The home team won by hitting Blanding hard when hits meant runs. The big pitcher was sent back in a vain effort to check Washington and for the first three innings the game looked as if it would be close.

Washington got off to a one-run

Washington got off to a one-run lead in the second but Cleveland rallied in its half of the fourth and the teams again were on even terms. The tie was short lived, however, as Washington landed on Blanding in the fourth for two doubles and two singles, and these helped along with an error, were good for three runs. The locals scored again in the sixth and in the eighth and with Walter Johnson mowing down the Clevelanders in regular order, the result became a certainty.

It was Johnson's second victory over Cleveland of the series. He was in fine form, showing but four widely scattered hits, striking out seven and giving but one base on balls. In the field he accepted six chances perfectly.

Milan was the hitting star of the day, getting four hits out of four times up, two of them being doubles. Ainsmith also batted hard, connecting for a triple and double out of three times at bat.

Joe Jackson, Cleveland's slugging outfielder, was hurt in the fourth inning while going after one of Milan's doubles to the fence, and had to be replaced by Ryan. Jackson and the ball hit the fence about the same time, the ball rebounding into Liebold's hands, while Jackson crumpled up in a heap, unconscious. His condition is not considered serious and he is expected to be in tomorrow's line up against Philadelphia. Manager Birmingham received no notice today of an indefinite suspension.

Call and See This Book

Mere Words cannot describe it—an illustration such as is herein presented cannot portray the beauties. The French would call it an "Edition de Luxe." We have no praise so fitting. It is indeed a superfine—a book of surpassing elegance—the grand triumph of art and magnificent tropical colorings, interwoven with word pictures none the less Artistic.

You Must Have a Copy of It from President Ban Johnson, as the result of his argument with Umpire Regan yesterday. As Birmingham was told of his suspension, Manager Griffith was informed that his has been lifted, and the Washington manager donned his uniform and went out on the field to lead his team of its fifth straight victory over the visitors.

passes and a single. Russell took Benz' place and forced in a run by giving E. Murphy a pass. Oldring then cleared the bases with a triple and scored on E. Collins' sacrifice fly, while Baker followed with a home run. Philadelphia used four pitchers. Plank was taken out in the first inning after the visitors had scored two runs on Weaver's double, singles by Lord and Chase and J. Collins'

ONCE MORE SKY-SCRAPERS LOSE

ed it out and drew a pass, which forced Jones in. Then Ballinger tossed it out for a two-bagger and Risberg and Moorehead counted. Pourroy going to third. The latter scored on a wild pitch, which was in itself a peculiar thing. Just as Stony was finishing his wind-up and was about to let fly, the ball slipped out of his hand and rolled behind him.

The Ogden score was boosted one in the fifth. Blauser sent one into left center, where it hopped around until Blauser was safe on second. He went to third on Moorehead's out and scored on Pourroy's sacrifice fly to Murphy.

The Salt Lake side scored three of their six runs in the seventh. Dressen led off with a double to left and went to third on a wild pitch. McClain fanned and Bauer drew a pass. Spencer popped out to Wessler and then Capt. Huelsman came along with his trusty weapon. He sent a beautiful drive over the left field fence, counting three runs. Singles by Murphy and Davis followed, but the runners died when Schimpff's fly was caught by Risberg.

Those three were retrieved by Ogden in the ninth. By this time the Salt Lake lineup had been switched around a whole lot by reason of pinch hitters used in the eighth. The stage was set with Schimpff catching, Bauer on third and Erickson on first.

Rustenhaven got another base on balls and Jones doubled to right. Risberg was thrown out by Bauer and Blauser brought in the two runners with a single to center. He went to second on a wild pitch and came home on Moorehead's straight scooter through the diamond.

A rally in their half of the ninth netted the Salt Lake club three runs. Spencer was clever enough to get a two-bagger along the left field line. Huelsman was thrown out by Risberg. Murphy singled to right, scoring Spencer. Davis got a bingle and Schimpff got another, thereby loading the bases. Morgan, hitting for Pendleton, sent out a neat slam, scoring Murphy, and Davis scored on Dressen's out, which was made by Ballinger unassisted. The side went down and the game ended when Erickson whiffed.
